2. PERSONAL HYGIENE
2-A

1. Recently there has been a decided increase in the incidence of louse infestation and of scabies. This condition indicates a need of more attention to personal hygiene.

2. No Army can afford wastage of manpower from preventable conditions and it is imperative, therefore, that a high standard of personal hygiene be maintained among all ranks.

3. The extent to which the rules of personal hygiene are observed depends largely on the standard of discipline and man-management in any Unit.

4. While the unit Medical Officer is the expert adviser on these matters, the CO of each unit is responsible that action is taken, so far as practicable under conditions obtaining from time to time, to provide for:-

- Regular baths
- Control of lousiness
- Care of the feet
- Sterilization of eating utensils, etc.

5. It is particularly important that lousiness be reduced to a minimum as typhus fever is spread by the louse.

(DIV RO (Adm Inst
No. 89)

3. DISINFECTION AND DISINFESTATION OF BLANKETS
3-A

1. Personnel who are evacuated to Medical Units will carry with them only one blanket, all others in possession will be returned to Unit Quartermaster Stores.

2. In cases of communicable disease, including, Scabies and Pediculosis, the unit Quartermaster will arrange for the disinfection or disinfestation of the blankets before re-issue. This will be carried out by the nearest Cdn Fd Hyg Section. (Fd Ambs or CCSs may be used for small numbers if more conveniently situated).

3. When blankets cannot be disinfected for immediate return to the Unit, arrangements have been made for the Medical Unit to reimburse the unit concerned, by the issue of corresponding number of blankets from their stores. The unit blankets will then be taken into store by the Medical Unit upon completion of disinfection or disinfestation.

(ARO 38 (a) 8 May 45)

(To sheet 2)

PART I D.O.

4. LOUSINESS AND TYPHUS

4-A

1. History shows that continental wars have been accompanied by outbreaks of EPIDEMIC TYPHUS FEVER. These have already occurred in Europe, in this war, with a high mortality. This form of Typhus is spread only by lice - usually and evidence of neglect and overcrowding.

2. The preventing of lousiness is a regimental responsibility. It may be ensured by regular body inspection and bathing, of unit personnel, and cleanliness of wearing apparel, blankets, paliasses etc. One infested man in a unit is a menace to all.

3. When a case of louse infestation occurs, the man and his immediate contacts will be treated by the Regimental Medical Offr, and disinfection of billets and clothing, etc, will be carried out in accordance with the preinciples set down in the Handbook of Military Hygiene, 1941.

4. Infested or suspected clothing, blankets, paliasses, etc, involving not more than six men at one time may be disinfected by arrangement with Field Ambulances, Field Hygiene Sections, or such fixed establishments as may be locally notified. Infested clothing, etc, in quantities not greater than one truck-load may be sent to a Field Hygiene Section or fixed disinfestor with a working-party to handle same. Where numbers of blankets, clothing, etc., in excess of the above require disinfection, Field Hygiene Sections can arrange to have a mobile disinfestor operate within the unit area as required. Also where local bathing facilities are inadequate, one or more sections of a Mobile Bath Unit can be utilized in the unit area in conjunction with a disinfestor. Treatment of the infested men will remain a responsibility of the Regimental Medical Offr.

5. Regular washing of personal clothing and blankets as a measure for the prevention of lousiness is important.

6. Woollen clothing being liable to permanent creasing if not promptly dried upon removal from a steam disinfestor it will be the responsibility of the unit whose equipment is being disinfested to provide a work party to undertake shaking and folding of the clothing, etc.

(ARO 39 8 May 42)

6. SHORT FORM WILL

Militia Book M.1 - Soldier's Service Book.

6-A

1. It has been reported that Wills have been copied into the form in the new Soldier's Service Book from the old book. This practice is wrong and will cease, as Short Form Wills must be entirely in the soldier's own handwriting, signed by him and dated (vide p.23, M.F.M. 1 (Part I)). It is pointed out that unless the soldier desires to change or make a new will, the old form of will in the Soldier's Service Book forwarded to Officer i/o Records in the proper manner is valid.

2. Officers Commanding should take this opportunity of impressing upon all soldiers who have not already done so, the advisability of making a Will, whether it be the Short Form of Will or M.F.M.10 or M.F.M.10a, dependent upon the type of estate involved. (Vide Overseas R.O. 1845 as amended by Overseas R.O. 1995).
